Submitting expense reports

Expense reports must be submitted within thirty days of the end of travel. Reports submitted after this window require written approval from a department director before they can be reimbursed.

Receipts

Itemised receipts are required for any single expense over 25 USD. Meals claimed under the per-diem rate do not require receipts.

Per-diem rates

Per-diem depends on the destination band. The bands below are reviewed annually by the finance team.

Destination band	Daily meals	Daily incidentals
Domestic standard	64 USD	12 USD
Domestic high-cost	79 USD	12 USD
International	95 USD	20 USD

Per-diem is claimed for each full day of travel.

Mileage

Personal vehicle mileage is reimbursed at the published federal rate. The rate is reviewed every January and announced by the finance team. Mileage for commuting between home and the primary office is never reimbursable.

Approval thresholds

A direct manager approves expense reports up to 5,000 USD. Reports above 5,000 USD additionally require finance review. Reports above 25,000 USD require the CFO.

Air travel

Economy class is the default for all flights. Premium economy is permitted for flights with a scheduled duration over eight hours. Business class requires CFO approval regardless of duration.

Cancellations

Refundable fares require a documented business reason. Change fees on non-refundable fares are reimbursable.
